It is just a fun, fast paced, sometimes bloody, B thriller that will have you on the edge of your seat.

I very much liked Kevin James as the heavy. He played this role so good. And Lulu Wilson as the protagonist couldn't have been cast better. In fact, all the actors did a great job and were very believable.

So, the downside is that the writers should have made all the action/story a little more believable. With just a little more thought this could have been a cult classic (Think: Last House On The Left.

But instead it comes off as a pretty childish writing job.

Still, if your looking for something fun this summer in a sea of mediocrity then try this little B thriller. You'll be glad you did.

unnecessary fight with criminals :clearly she doesn't know what fight she have to fight"

Highly non-recommended movie to watch with kids of any age as the film teaches nothing but gore.

Last part where she kills one in cold blood on point blank was just worst part, he spares her life not to get shot after saving her 2 times from being killed.

another worst part is not in whole world will be gangsters who be get defeated by a little girl (So movie is also unrealistic and pathetic.
