

NOTEWORTHY

FRED BOCK PUBLISHING GROUP

CHORAL LEADERSHIP

Dr. Amanda Quist, Director of Choral Activities at the University of Miami, leads award-winning choirs and initiatives, inspiring globally through conducting, teaching, and mentorship.

AMANDA QUIST

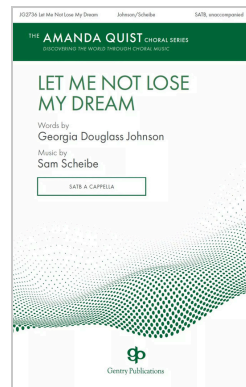

AMANDA QUIST

ABOUT DR. QUIST

Dr. Amanda Quist leads the Frost Chorale and graduate Choral Conducting program at the University of Miami's Frost School of Music. The choir has collaborated with prestigious ensembles like the New World Symphony and Michael Tilson Thomas under her guidance. She initiated the Seraphic Fire Scholars program, offering conducting internships. Formerly Chair at Westminster Choir College, she received awards for teaching and leadership. Dr. Quist is a renowned conductor, educator, and leader in choral music.

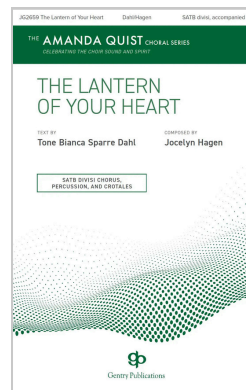

CHORAL SERIES

Let Me Not Lose My Dream

Experience Sam Schiebe's heartfelt SATB setting of Georgia Douglass Johnson's poem, showcasing elegant simplicity and poignant clarity, suitable for all choir levels.

View Products

The Lantern Of Your Heart

Jocelyn Hagen's multi-textural, richly colored piece, accompanied by percussion, offers a deeply heartfelt traditional sound for medium-advanced choirs.

View Products

Bacai Per Aver Vita

Vittoria Aleotti's a cappella madrigal, edited by Jami Lercher, offers clarity and firm harmonies, making it accessible for school or festival choirs, highlighting a trailblazing female collaboration.

View Products

The Wall Breaks Asunder

Evocative text meets dynamic music for tenor-bass choir, percussion ensemble, and piano, painting vivid imagery of darkness, light, and triumph.

View Products