. director Bong Joon Ho. Release Date 2013. 7,6 / 10 star. story The nations release the substance CW-7 with the intention of controlling global warming, but accidentally it results in another Ice Age destroying Earth. The only survivors live in the train Snowpiercer which is driven by a perpetual motion engine created by the millionaire Wilford (Ed Harris) that lives in the engine part. In 2031, after seventeen years, there is a fight of classes inside the train since the oppressed lower class lives in dreadful conditions in the last wagons of the train while the elite lives in the front wagons. The lower class is fed with protein bars only; they are oppressed and punished by Minister Mason (Tilda Swinton) and her brutal guards; and their children are taken every now and then when they reach a certain height. The leaders Gilliam (Sir John Hurt), Curtis Everett (Chris Evans), and Edgar (Jamie Bell) are plotting a scheme to reach the engine and talk to Wilford about their conditions using the addicted security engineer Namgoong Minsoo (Song Kang-ho) and his clairvoyant daughter Yona (Ko Asung) that are imprisoned to open the locked doors. When the son of Tanya (Octavia Spencer), Tim (Marcanthonee Reis), is captured by Mason, they decide to execute their plan. There are many casualties and soon Curtis discovers that they have been manipulated by Wilford to balance the resources in the train, and why the magnate keeps the lower class alive

After years this is movie which make me open account here at IMDb. Why? Well i couldn't believe such high ratings for this movie. Terrible screenplay, terrible story, completely without logic and common sense, so full of contradictions. Favorite character: unkillable bad guy, no matter you stab him, choke him, bleed him. He is, like one reviewer here nicely notice, Terminator. There is no info why the Korean girl is so terrified of him or why he is so obsessed to kill her but not rebellion leader(Chris Evans. And end of movie when they just blow the doors causing train is so many logic flows in this movie. Whats the point of all of this. Just pass this, there is much more better time wasters than this one terrible movie.

Snowpiercer tv trailer. Snowpiercer novel. Snowpiercer watch online. Snowpiercer trailer 2020. Directed by Joon Ho Bong this suspense and action filled film could have been more better but its still worth a watch as it is something very different then many films if you remember under siege 2, polar express, the last passenger this is just like unstoppable with captain America on board i saw this film and Chris Evans was here which was a total surprise for me its Chris in a foreign film wow yes this film is good and you can feel & take it as metaphor or allegory but one the whole it not exiting enough to hold attention for long its unpredictable but boring much.

the plot: in year 2031 global warming kills almost everything but few survivors get inside a special train that is traveling around the world.

the cast: Chris Evans was unexpected this is his non us film but he does best, Kang Ho Sung as usual smocking the rest cast members did well also.

the train is definitely snow piercer but there is a lot of Cgi involved in many sequences which was nice to see the train never stops running till the climax it will remind of you the last passenger 2013 film starring Dougray Scott which i think personally the best film ever made way better then this this film is loaded on action but TLP is high on suspense this is not a Hollywood film keep in mind an Asian film like this will become some peoples favorite or even considered a cult classic in future i am just feeling it it changes genre in between like all of sudden from nice to action & then becomes a horror film specially the scene where all the guys in mask comes with axes giving one hell of a long fight sequence.

Overall watch Snowpiercer 2013 only if you are a Chris Evans fan or action rating is 5/commended.
