I found it a bit hard to understand the plot because I ain't clever enough too and I'm not used to watching these types of movies. I'd say I enjoyed the first hour or so of the movie, but after that it got too complex for me and I wanted it to end. No matter what the genre is, 3 hours and 20 minutes is a bit long for a movie. I've seen a similar movie to this which was Goodfellas which I did like, but even that I found hard to understand at times. Overall, I found it decent and I liked the characters, but it was not a good experience for me for the reasons I stated above.
